

Client: COI/NHS	JOB: 44753	DATE: 24.1.03	PROOF: 01
File name: 44753 286 x 210 Bella	SIZE: 286x210mm	BLEED:
WEEK: 003	OP: SD	PUBLICATION:

NOTES:

ECN Midwives Journal 286x210mm

It took 7 people to help me carry my baby.

Well Karen and Perry did have a big baby. Happy, healthy and here with the help of the NHS team that supported them from their first scan to their birth plan. When the moment of truth arrived, there was one midwife in particular, Sue. Even though it was just another day to her, she made sure it was the most wonderful day of their lives. If you're interested in training to be a midwife or thinking of returning to midwifery, you'll find the NHS is improving. There's more training, the hours are more flexible including access to childcare and the pay is getting better. A returning midwife can now expect to earn at least £17,105 p.a. (in inner London at least £21,017 p.a.) and a pay increase is due from April 2003.

Why not call 0845 60 60 655 or go to www.nhs.uk/careers

Join the team and make a difference.

The NHS is working towards equality of opportunity for all