

It took 8 people to help me change my socks.

From the moment Philip's GP diagnosed him as a diabetic, Philip knew things would have to change. What he didn't realise, was that it would include his footwear. After the Practice Nurse explained the basic information about diabetes, Philip met with Janet the Podiatrist. As a Podiatrist, it was Janet's job to check if Philip's feet had any loss of feeling and highlight the importance of preventing and protecting his feet from injury. This started with him changing his choice in shoes and socks. With the help of the whole Primary Care Team, from his Dietitian to his District Nurse, Philip is learning how to manage his diabetes and is finding his feet. If you think you could be part of a Primary Care Team, you'll find the NHS is improving. Investing in more people, modern equipment and the community. And supporting and valuing all its staff equally. To find out more why not call us today on 0845 60 60 655 or go to www.nhs.uk/careers
